

We improve the European society through the promotion of quality in its broadest sense

by

qualified personnel: training and personnel certification, passport of professional competence;

transforming organizations: information, innovation, awards;

facilitating networking: congresses, international representations, seminars.

EOQ was established in 1956 as an autonomous, non-profit association operating under the Belgian law.

In the globalized world, quality expertise is of key importance.

EOQ is a widely accepted quality management network based in Europe and worldwide.

To make quality visible we issue competence certificates for a large scale of management systems professions in the areas of quality, environmental protection, occupational health & safety, innovation and corporate social responsibility. Well-trained and certified personnel provide the basis to organizations for change and success in the global competitive market.
